

What is LostCampus.com? (for students)

LostCampus.com is a FREE Online Directory & Bulletin Board for college students and local businesses. Each site is custom made for each individual school.

STUDENTS/ BULLETIN BOARD

Students can sign on to the bulletin board for free using their ".edu" email address. This ensures the bulletin board is secure and specific to each university and its students. The bulletin board allows students to communicate with each other within their university in a controlled environment while giving them the capability to reach all students, not just their friends. Students can post as often as they would like, all the posts are discreet and anyone who answers the post will not be able to see the authors email address.

Bulletin Board Sections

Books - Students can buy, sell or trade books to their fellow classmates.

Jobs - Find out what local businesses are hiring!

Events - Find out from other classmates what is going on around town.

Announcements - Find out deals around town, student reviews on local businesses and "Spout Off" where you can tell everyone what is really on your mind!

Housing - Find on campus and off campus housing. Looking for a roommate?

Flea Market - Buy and sell with your classmates!

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION/ HOW WE STAY IN BUSINESS

LostCampus.com has multiple sponsorships that buy space on our sites to gain extra exposure. This is done through the banners that will be seen on the top right hand side of the sub pages as well as on the bottom of the LostCampus.com homepage.

Any businesses interested in sponsorship or additional exposure within the site, please email - Mike@LostCampus.com
